

Abstract

Carbon foams exhibiting a dielectric constant of from about 2 to about 6 and simultaneously an electrical resistivity in the range of between about $1.E^{+00}$ ohm-cm and about $1.E^{+06}$ ohm-cm, demonstrate excellent radar emission absorptivity in the megahertz and gigahertz ranges.